Seniors gaze back

Once the time had come, it hardly seemed possible that the year we had all awaited had finally arrived: our senior year. Wrapped up in the excitement of all our activities and preparing to finish high school, we sometimes forgot the two previous years. During these years, we had slowly prepared ourselves for the better times which were to come.

Overcoming the traditional sophomore jokes and handicap, we surprised everyone by becoming the sophomore class to raise the most money in school history. Led by a team of class officers which included President Gloria Samaro, Vice-President Vinny Lynch, Secretary Suzette Dwyer, and Treasurer Steve Kaplan, the class organized bake sales, car washes, spaghetti dinners, and many other fund raisers.

As we went about our activities in school, there was much activity around the world. President Carter continued his attempts to make peace between Israel and Egypt, and revolution started in Iran when its Shah was expelled. Meanwhile, on American soil, controversy over the use of nuclear power continued to brew.

Nevertheless, in spite of all national and international problems, the year brought for us the usual activities, and before we knew it Homecoming 1978 arrived with Donna Shumann as our Queen. Our performance caused some disappointment as our Winnie-the-Pooh placed only third in the float competition. In the hall decorations, we came in second.

As juniors we came back ready to begin a new year aware that it would mean taking PSAT'S, SAT'S, driving tests, and, hopefully, getting our licenses. With Gloria Samaro once more our President, and Gary Heimberg as Vice-President, Steve Kaplan as Treasurer, and Suzette Dwyer as Secretary, a Prom committee was formed. Fund raisers such as shake and carnation sales and a volleyball marathon were organized. We fared no better in Homecoming 1979 than we did the previous year. With Debbie Lundin as our Queen, and "A Chorus Line" as our theme, our float placed us last once more in that competition, and again we came in second in hall decorations.

Junior year brought with it a great deal of unrest on both the international and domestic scene. Abroad, we witnessed the seizure of our American embassy in Iran, when Iranian militants held American men and women hostage. The crisis continued to build, and human lives were lost in an unsuccessful attempt to rescue the hostages. At home, tension built up as President Carter re-instituted registration for the armed forces and controversy arose over its constitutionality. Women's rights also became a dominant issue. In addition, as elections came closer and primaries were in full swing, Americans saw candidates such as George Bush, Ronald Reagan, Ted Kennedy, and Jimmy Carter, and others struggle for their party's nomination to the presidency.

Finally, as we returned from a summer of vacationing, we all too quickly found ourselves in the midst of our senior year. While involved in the usual routine of another year, our months were highlighted by many important events. We witnessed the tragic death of former Beatle John Lennon, murdered in the streets of New York City. January 20 became a great day as we not only inaugurated a new President, Ronald Reagan, but finally saw the release of the hostages in Iran after 14 months of captivity.

Meanwhile, at school we all continued our work, anxiously waiting for spring and the events which it would bring into our personal lives. Our friends became more valuable as we realized that our days of togetherness were numbered. Yet we worked and we strived, our sights set on the goals we each wanted to reach, knowing we could all get them, and realizing that after all "Getting there's only half the fun."

HOMECOMING

Homecoming 1980 was a day full of suspense. Everyone dreams of a beautiful day with sunny skies and a cool breeze. Instead, we woke up to torrential rain accompanied by thunder and lightning. As the morning progressed, we were unsure if we would have our homecoming festivities that day. But when the kickoff time arrived we knew that Homecoming 1980 had begun in spite of the weather.

The theme was "Heroes", and the Seniors came away with top honors with their float, "Super Heroes". The Senior Hall decorations, depicting "Tarzan," also took first place.

Dawn Disporto reigned graciously as Homecoming Queen escorted by Homecoming King Todd Paulus. The couple rode in style, in a red Corvette.

Before a somewhat drenched but enthusiastic stand full of fans, the undefeated Bears continued their winning ways by defeating JF Kennedy 22-7.

The lack of sunshine on Homecoming afternoon was made up for by the shining spirit of all who attended — students, teachers, and alumni.

FROST VALLEY

On October 3, 45 Humanities students started out on what was to be one of the most enriching intense class trips they had ever attended. This trip was to Frost Valley in the Catskill Mountains.

According to teacher Mr. Louis Chalupa the purpose of the weekend was "to build a group spirit and have fun while working together to solve problems and build cooperation."

The trip was a great success. Many of the students knew only a few people when they left for the trip, but by the time they returned home, they had many friends.

The activities the students participated in were ones they had never tried before, such as scaling a chimney, going on a hayride in the rain, and making apple cider from handpicked apples.

The feelings of all who attended are summarized best by Denise Tremmel, "Frost Valley is what one makes of it. You have the opportunity to share and learn a great deal about yourself and others but you must give in order to receive. The best part of the trip is when you have to take chances. Though there exists no danger, you must conquer your inner fears and possibly have an experience that will remain with you for the rest of your life. But do not go because of what I feel, go for yourself, discover the beauty of your surroundings and experience!"

SENIOR VARIETY SHOW

The Directors

As May approached, the annual Senior Variety Show was organized. After tryouts, the show was limited to 40 acts which included everything from singing and dancing to comic skits. The MCs for the show were Noah Sabin, Michael Gutman, and Joe Gavin. The organizers of the show were talented students themselves. Tom Devaney was the director and Nina Lucas the assistant director. The musical director was Wendy Nelles. The profits from the show, $4500, went primarily into the Prom Fund.

Seniors hold auction

Gloria Samaro, Dennis Doyle

The Senior Class was thwarted in its attempt to raise lots of money at a Chinese auction because of a new law requiring a permit before an auction can be held or even advertised. Since the permit was obtained the very morning of the auction, there was only a little time for publicity. The result — a small turnout at the auction and a profit of only $125.

GRADUATION '81

Before anyone knew it, graduation was suddenly upon us. The last few months of our senior year were over and we were prepared to go our separate ways. As we were awarded our diplomas, we were finally struck with the realization that, at that moment, our high school years were over. Many of us reminisced about days and experiences that were long gone.

Finally, as we all said our good-byes, we wished each other the best, hoping to see each other again, and ready to move on to the many challenges ahead.

Contrary to popular belief, there is no tradition stating that the East Brunswick High School yearbook's cover has to be green. Yes, the yearbook is called the Emerald, but that does not mean it has to be that color.

Since its first publication in 1961, the Emerald has been green only five times, and of those five times it has been emerald green only twice. Among the colors it has been are brown, black, beige, white and aqua. Blue was chosen as the cover color for both the 1973 and this year's 1981 yearbook.

"Hollyrock" originated from TV's Flinstones. Fred and Wilma went to Hollywood (Hollyrock) to become famous. EBHS artists followed in their path by printing "Hollyrock" on the walls of the school. The most popular spot to write "Hollyrock" has been right above Senior Park on the auditorium wall. The school administration did not approve of the action the students were taking and had offered rewards to anybody who could unmask the unknown printers. It has cost the school $1000 to sand blast the graffiti off the wall, but even at this costs mischievous seniors still kept the "Hollyrock" tradition going.

Halloween — A Humanities Hootenanny

An all-day Halloween party was organized by the Humanities classes. Led by Humanities teacher, Mr. Lou Chalupa, party preparations began two weeks in advance. Among the decisions made was to require all Humanities students to come to school in original party costumes. Room 70 was decorated with streamers, black cats, Jack-O-Lanterns, and balloons. Students volunteered their talents, such as singing and guitar playing, to entertain throughout the day. Celebrated on a Friday, October 31, the party provided the students with a cheerful note on which to end a long week of quarterly exams.

Thank God it's Friday!

Sound familiar? "Thank God it's Friday" meant the weekend had come and it usually passed through just about everyone's lips on that wonderful day. Five days seemed like a lifetime when there were tests, quizzes, reports and compositions to contend with. It meant that the only rule to be followed was the one which stated that no work was to be done unless it was absolutely necessary. During classes, some students dreamed of the upcoming Friday and Saturday nights and all the good time in store. Other students, and sometimes teachers, who considered the weekend already started, were just plain rowdy.

"Can I have your senior picture?" was a popular cry heard in the senior hallways at the beginning of the school year. In May, the school photographer set up his camera in the yearbook office. For two weeks after this, guys showed up in three-piece suits, and girls came to school wearing bright turtlenecks. In August or September the pictures came in, and the big event of picture swapping, giving your closest friends a professional photo with your most sentimental thoughts written on the back, began.

At a time when the nation's economy was in a state of flux, when many companies and industries were finding it hard to stay in business, when the opportunities for growth in an occupation were seriously limited, a student graduating from high school had to weigh the merits of a post-secondary educational program very carefully, perhaps even more carefully in 1980 than ever before. Being armed with valid information about schools and careers was the best way to work through the various choices so that the end of the career path would be marked by right decisions.

Mr. Robert Sullivan, Career Resource Center Coordinator, said: "The Guidance Department Career Center is the place that has up-to-date career and education information, and the place where many students obtain facts for their career decisions. Now in its 8th year, the Career Center contains a wealth of print and multi-media information. Many seniors begin the path for college by using the Career Center's computer terminal. Since the job market has become so competitive, the Career Center provides an overview of appropriate employment seeking skills in senior Health class." He emphasized, "The class of '81 should remember that Career Center's services DO NOT END with graduation. All graduates should feel free to return to EBHS to use materials and the full time job placement program."

Music, as usual, was the mainstay of every teen's life. Albums and tapes were bought by the hundreds, but a more wanted item was a bit more scarce. Early in the year, it was announced that New Jersey's number one rock superstar, Bruce Springsteen, was going to make several concert appearances only one hour from his home state. Springsteen fans went wild. After two long years, he was finally going to sing for his original fans, at Madison Square Garden, in November and December. Every fan wanted a ticket to at least one of the concerts.

Teens scrambled for the cash to cover certified checks and money orders which could be postmarked no earlier than October 1. After mailing in the money for a maximum of four tickets, and a request for a specific date, all one could do was wait for a response from Madison Square Garden's offices.

After what seemed an eternity, the responses began pouring in. Ecstatic and dejected students filled the halls as they compared the best red seats to those in blue heaven. Of course there weren't enough tickets for everyone, but those who did get them were kind enough to report to those who didn't see how fabulous Bruce Springsteen was.

A look of formality arrived at school. It didn't come in the form of top hat and tails, but in bow ties. Bow ties became major accessories to every girl's wardrobe. Most of the ties were simply made of cotton ribbon. However, some were more in keeping with the traditional style of the men's formal bow tie. At times, two ribbons of different colors were worn together to bring out many colors in the shirt. The ties could be bought in bunches or with blouses. They were found in every color and in dots, stripes, or solids. Girls enjoyed wearing ties because they made any outfit seem dressier, while the guys enjoyed untying the bows at every chance they had.

Bears: best in years

The Football Team, coached by Mr. George Tardiff, ended its great season with an 8-2 record. In the history of EBHS teams, this record is the best. Top players practiced every day to achieve a certain goal: to win. Even though their season began in September, the players started training in January.

One of the toughest games the team faced was against J.P. Stevens. The Bears were picked to lose; as it turned out they won, 14-7. Tougher than Stevens was Madison-Central. EBHS was picked to lose again. This time the prediction was right. The team lost 7-32. Despite this loss, the Bears made it to the playoffs.

The leading players on the team were given the following awards: Most Valuable Defensive Lineman, Rich Croll; Most Valuable Offensive Lineman, Mike Allen; Most Valuable Defensive Back, Kevin Darrar; Most Valuable Offensive Back, Dave Feldman; Coaches Award, Mark DiGeronimo; Most Improved, Dave Bastkowski.

All of these players were seniors, but there are still many returning lettermen. They are Don Albach, Lenny Bellezza, Charlie Bennett, Pete Ielmini, Paul Flannigan, Ayhan Kideyes, Glen Lawless, Bill Logan, Brad McNiven, Tom Vistardis, and Don Wilson. Out of the 11 returning lettermen, three were picked to be tri-captains: Lenny Bellezza, Charlie Bennett, and Paul Flannigan.

Fall Squads Cheer Teams

It started out as every American girl's dream. Screaming in pouring rain, jumping in freezing winds and doing splits on a muddy track all came with the territory. Does it sound like a tough job? It sure was. Being a first rate cheerleader took a lot of hard work and effort. Coached by Ms. Kathy Ricker and Ms. Laura Chelli-Thibodeau, the cheerleaders provided spirit and enthusiasm to both the team and the crowd. The only girls allowed in the Boys' Locker Room, the cheerleaders decorated the lockers each week to wish the athletes good luck in the coming game.

At the helm of the Varsity Cheerleaders were Captain Debbie Lundin and Co-Captain Dawn Disporto. Leading the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were Captain Robyn Michalak and Co-Captain Lisa Schroeder.

Both Fall squads were responsible for cheering the Football and Soccer Teams on to victory and keeping the school's spirit alive.

Girls reach goals

With the opening of its third season, the Girls Soccer Team had high hopes for another successful year. Coached by Girls Soccer Coach of the Year, Mr. Lou Kosa, the team ended the season with an overall record of 16-4-1. In conference play, the team was undefeated with eight straight victories, earning the girls the title of MCAC Champions. In the county tournament, the team had to share the first place crown with a strong Edison team after playing to a 0-0 tie in the final round.

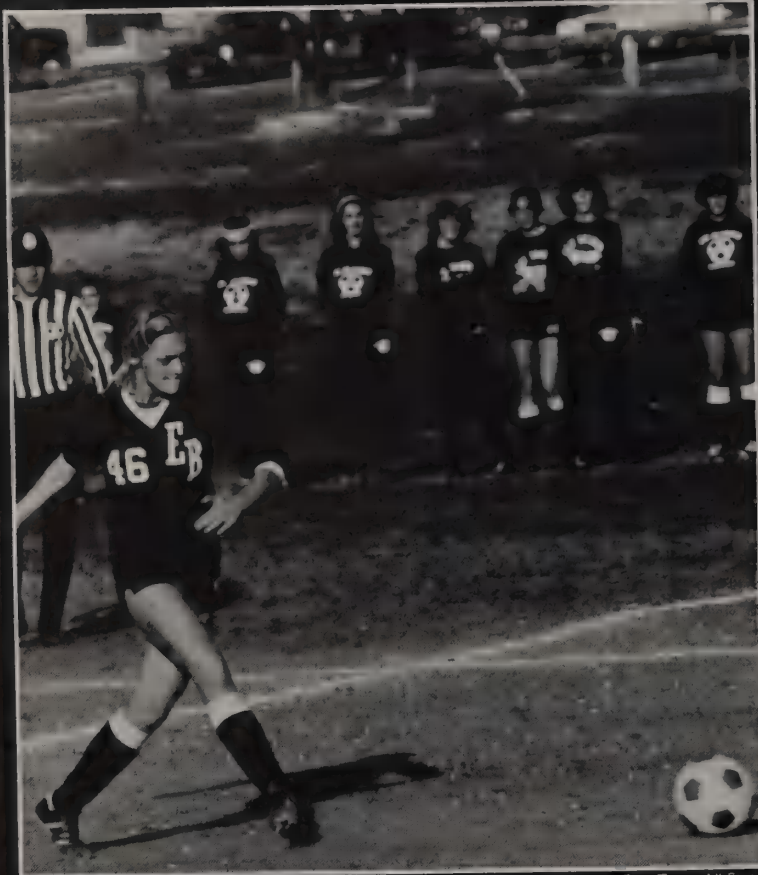

Leading the team and the county in scoring was sophomore Sue Fiocco, with 30 goals. Following closely behind was senior Co-Captain Gretchen Whitman, who also led the county in assists. The team scored 89 goals during the season, an average of four goals per game.

At the head of the defense was senior Co-Captain Kathy Barabas. In only her first year as a goalkeeper, Kathy posted 11 shutouts and permitted only 27 goals in the entire season. She was named an Athlete of the Week by The Star Ledger for her outstanding performance.

The Junior Varsity Team, coached by Ms. Sonia Regalado, compiled a successful record of 6-1-1.

The British were here!

In 1979, the Boys Cross Country Team went to England to run in a meet sponsored by King Henry VIII School in Coventry. In 1980, the team from Coventry visited EBHS. While they were here, the nine boys, Head Coach Ted Norrish, Vice Principal James Rhidian and his wife visited New York City, saw the World Trade Center and watched part of the New York Marathon. The team ran in a tri-meet and a County meet, went to a football game and a pizza party, attended classes and participated in other school activities.

In the sectional meet, Captain Steve Friedman captured the first-place honors while senior Lee Pluhowski came in second, .1 of a point behind his teammate. In the state championship, the Bears took first place in all six events with Lee winning the individual honors and Steve a close second.

Other strong members of the team were senior Joel Yellin who specialized in pommel horse and vaulting and junior Brian Rummel. Junior Antonio Toto and sophomore Victor Barra looked promising for the next year's team.

Girls' Gymnastics season beams

Continuing what has become an East Brunswick tradition, the Girls Gymnastics Team once again ended its season with a successful record, a perfect 11-0. The team, coached by Ms. Eileen Matarazzo, captured first place in the Middlesex County Tournament for the fifth consecutive year and third in the state. In the sectional competition, the girls came in second, missing first by only .6 of a point.

According to Coach Matarazzo, the toughest meets were against Madison Central and Bridgewater, who had previously been undefeated in seven meets.

Highlighting the team were senior Co-Captains Elaine Sacks and Ruth Shladovsky, who both competed all-around. Elaine won the individual, all-around honors at the state tournament, ranking number one in the state. She was also named Star Ledger Athlete of the Week after her star performance.

Other members of the team were vaulter Marie Helmold and Karen Peter, both seniors, junior Margaret Blewett, who competed all-around, and freshman Maria Casanelli, who specialized in balance beam and parallel bars.

Girls Boost Spirit

Winter always brings things indoors and the cheerleaders were no exception. After expanding to a squad of 15, the Varsity Cheerleaders got psyched (alright, alright, alright!!) for basketball season. Performing in the gym, the girls had to contend with echoing cheers and rowdy fans who sometimes got out of hand. Varsity Captain and Co-Captain were Debbie Lundin and Dawn Disporto. Junior Varsity Captain was Lisa Schroeder. The cheerleaders, coached by Ms. Kathy Ricker and Ms. Laura Chelli-Thibodeau, faithfully supported the team and crowds at games and pep rallies. And who could forget those pyramids and crash splits?

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society has traditionally recognized students who demonstrate qualities of scholarship, leadership, and character. The society is a community/school service organization which works with school clubs and charities. The standards for admission into this club are different than those needed for any other organization in the school. Academically, a Junior requires a 3.6 cumulative grade point average and a Senior needs a 3.4 average. Extra-curricular activities as well as the academic record of a student, are involved in the selection of a society member.

Among the activities provided by NHS is the Big Brother/Sister program which has been held for the last three years. The Big Brother/Sister program sends NHS members to Central School during school hours to speak individually with younger children with personal or school problems. Other programs have been established to help people. A tutoring service has been set up to help children who need assistance in academic areas. The annual Blood Drive is also a continuing event.

President David Friedel stated that a new program which "typifies NHS concern for the community and school" was enacted during the year. The program organized a schoolwide system of fundraising which in turn helped national charities such as the Red Cross, American Cancer Society, and American Lung Association. Accordingly, various clubs throughout the school promoted fundraising activities. The NHS matched the cumulative amount raised by the clubs and sent it to the charities. The program will be repeated every year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council, the only organization in the school that represents all the students, is not a club, but a people's organization. It consists of representatives at large who seek out the opinions of their fellow students.

Student Council is special because its purpose is to make the school experience more enjoyable and exciting. This is accomplished through the activities run throughout the year. The most outstanding plans include a spirit week, field day, faculty tea, ping-pong tournament, and the traditional Homecoming festivities.

For the first time, Student Council has formed a student advisory committee which consists of all club presidents. The leaders in the school work together to plan programs and activities to benefit the entire student body. This advisory committee works along with Student Council to achieve a sense of unity and spirit in the school.

INTERACT

Gargi Sikder, Ruby Rishi, Heather Stone, Harish Venugopal, Dan Jetter, Steven Benno, Kamesh Venugopal, and Andy Bayer.

Interact is an organization whose main goal is to promote awareness and service at the local, national, and international levels. Basically, the school branch promotes citizen awareness by aiding campaigns in a non-partisan fashion. The organization also works to supply funds for charities. Two main activities for the year were a model United Nations and a mock Presidential Election. In the Model United Nations, interested students selected a country and represented it as an ambassador of that country. Similarly, the mock Presidential Election provided students with the opportunity to gain awareness of the election process. First, the issues on the ballot were publicized and explained. People spoke about these issues and the candidates' stand on each issue was publicized. Finally, an election was held. The student election had these results: for President — Ronald Reagan, for Congressman — Christopher Smith, and for Mayor — William Fox.

BOOSTER CLUB

Student Booster Club is an organization which helps raise school spirit. The arrival of football season brings about one of the club's most important functions — Homecoming. The club sponsors the election of Homecoming Queen and King. Hanging tings with slogans "Beat the Opposition" are held prior to each sporting event to let the players know their fans are behind them.

Duties of club members also include selling of stickers, school buttons, and candy, as well as posting the calendar of sporting events and Athlete of the Week bulletin boards throughout the school. The Boosters also sell refreshments at school events. All of the activities are designed to boost school spirit.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is a community service working to enrich both the school and community. It participates in various fundraisers for non-profit organizations such as the March of Dimes and Diabetes. Members of the club work together to help others in need. Activities sponsored for aiding the March of Dimes and Diabetes were a square dance, walk-a-thon, and a skate-a-thon. Similarly, events were held for the elderly, including visiting nursing homes and working with individual senior citizens on a one to one basis. This chapter of the club also sponsored projects dealing with the mentally retarded and the handicapped: Hand-in-Hand and Camp Daisy Easter Egg Hunt. One of the largest events, which had strong student response, was the "All Stars Against Arthritis". This event was promoted by Dave Feldman and Mike Allen, two of the football team's most valuable players.

Latin Club

The Latin Club consists of a group of people who share a mutual concern for the language of Latin and the culture of Rome. The criterion for admittance is just having an interest in Rome or Latin. The Latin Club, unlike most language clubs, does not require its members to study Latin. However, only Latin students may join the Junior Classical League. This is an organization similar to the Latin Club, on a state and national level, which the Latin Club became affiliated with last year. The club planned to send Latin students to share meetings and activities this year. In addition, the club decorated the halls during the holidays. The club also planned Roman parties along with the big Roman Banquet, a huge toga party at the end of the year.

French Club

The French Club is an organization which strives for the popularization of the French language and culture. The club is open to all French students and anyone else interested in France and its many attractions. As in other clubs, the French Club plans activities which are followed through the school year. For instance, bake sales, candy or calendar sales, and a car wash to collect funds were held.

The club also planned a trip to French-speaking Quebec during Easter vacation in April. Other activities were singing French songs, plays, and lectures by guest speakers, and French films.

Membership in the French Honor Society is prestigious due to a difficult membership requirements. Students must have an A minus average in three years of French, and a B average in all other subjects.

The Society raised money for trips by having candy and bake sales. Members also corresponded with penpals in France. The FHS had a party with the German and Spanish Honor Societies.

German Honor Society

The German Honor Society is a service organization open to honor students studying the German language. The purpose of the organization is to promote the study of German and to encourage interest in Germany's culture and civilization.

Members of the German Honor Society must be juniors or seniors who have completed at least one year of high school German and are enrolled in another year. They must also have a 3.5 minimum grade average in German and a 3.0 minimum average in all other subjects.

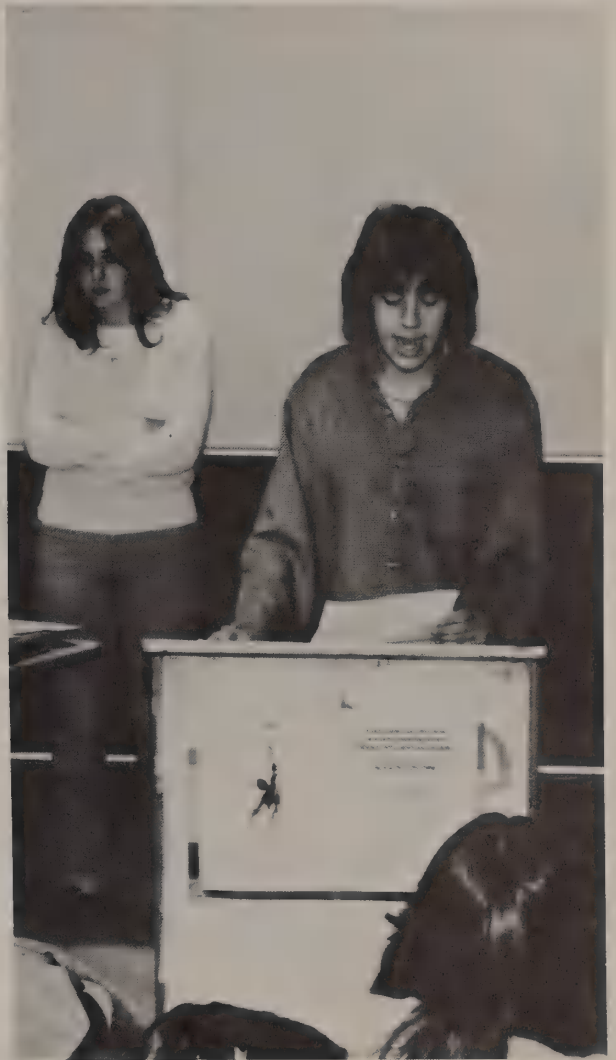

As a service organization, the Society is involved in small projects within the school and the community. Members have repaired old toys and games for delivery to the pediatrics ward at St. Peter's hospital, as well as helping decorate a school hall during the Student Council's winter holiday program. The Honor Society is also responsible for planning and financing the exchange program with high school students from Westerburg, West Germany, and it works with the German Club making arrangements for the visiting students.

Spanish Honor Society

The Spanish Honor Society is open to all students who are enrolled in Spanish. The main functions of the Society are to promote the Spanish language and provide information about the culture of the country.

Members of the SHS must have a "B" average or better. The Society is involved in many activities, including its annual car wash and participating in the hall decorations.

A new governmental system was promoted this year for the Society. Instead of being directed by the advisers, the Society was run by its members and officers. Accordingly, a Steering Committee was established. This committee did the actual "steering" for the club's development in September. For example, it established requirements for members and for elections. The committee consisted of seven students who, according to the advisers, were qualified in administrative duties. Furthermore, the Steering Committee served as an advisory board to the officers of the Society for the remainder of the year. In all, the Spanish Honor Society worked towards a productive and successful year.

MARCHING BAND

The 1980 season was an extremely successful one for the marching band. Under the direction of Mr. Gordon Tedeschi and Mr. Verne Whitlock, the band reached heights never thought possible. Its expectations were high and were happily fulfilled.

For the first time in its history, the entire marching band went away to band camp. After much fund raising, the musicians left for Lake Como, Penn. where they marched for many long hours in the hot sun. When the five days were up, it was easy to see that the hard work had been well worth it. The band learned a total of four field routines while at the camp. Upon returning, the members continued to practice three days after school and every Saturday morning, preparing for their half-time show.

tains football fans

The band appeared at the first football game with a definite change in appearance. The new uniforms, with bright green shirts, cowboy hats with a plume, and black capes, made quite an impression. But even more impressive were the sounds coming out of the many shiny instruments. The crowds of people were staying in the stands to cheer on the band during its half-time show — a sight the band is not used to seeing. It brought a positive attitude and a good feeling to all who had worked so hard.

In addition to playing at football games, the band participated in the Home News Band Festival, held at Rutgers Stadium in October. The band is one of only a few to have performed at this event every year it has been held.

Its itinerary also included two New Jersey competitions. It received a rating of three at the Superchief Band Festival in Piscataway. At the Eastern Marching Band Association Championship in Little Falls, the band took third place in its class.

The auxiliaries, consisting of the Color Guard, Drill Team, and Twirlers added much color and excitement to the band's overall appearance. Each individual squad practiced on the same four days as the band members, plus an additional two days every week. These many hours of hard work were well worth it when a second place band-front award was presented to them in Gloucester, Mass. in October.

COLOR GUARD

The Color Guard consists of two squads; rifles and flags. The captain of the rifle squad was Nancy Miller and the co-captain was Lisa Gold. The flag captain was Audrey Dubovick and the co-captain was Sandy Nagy. Their advisor was Mr. Joe Zienkowicz.

DRILL TEAM

The drill team is a squad of twenty girls that twirl hand flags. In addition, they perform a special dance at Homecoming in unique costumes. The captain of the squad was Laurie Rehert and the co-captain was Carin Nicholson. The advisor was Miss Diane Nelson.

TWIRLERS

The Twirlers were an excellent squad, though few in number. The feature twirler was Carolyn Martinsen. Her routine not only consisted of twirling with two batons, but at the Homecoming game she twirled with a wand of fire. The captain of the squad was Debbie Vele and their advisor was Miss Debbie White.

BAND'S EFFORT

On October 18, The Marching Band gathered together its equipment and boarded three buses for Amherst, Mass. After practicing hard and fund raising like crazy, the band was on its way to competing in two very tough competitions. The first was The Music Bowl at the University of Mass. and the second was the Gloucester Invitational Band Contest. All participants were very excited and their hopes were high.

They arrived in Boston that evening and after a hearty dinner, dressed for the competition. Upon arriving at the field, the students were nervous as the other bands began to perform — in the pouring rain. They patiently awaited their turn and just as they arrived on the field, the rain let up. The band then proceeded to put on one of its best shows of the year. When the scores were announced, the musicians were all reassured. The band took first place in its class.

The next day the band got back on its buses and drove to Gloucester, Mass. where it proved equally successful. It won second place in its class and received an additional three awards: first place musical performance, second place Color Guard, and second place Drum Majors.

The buses carrying the award winning band back home were escorted by the police to the school where a crowd was waiting. Ms. Amy Fisher, speaking for Superintendent Dr. Joseph Sweeney, and Mr.

Richard Saari, speaking for Mayor William Fox, each congratulated the band and its units on a job well done.

In November the EBHS student chapter of the American String Teachers Association presented a recital dedicated to member Richard Dorr.

Five outstanding students were chosen for the All Eastern Orchestra. Stephanie Kupchynsky, Kellie Reed, Shari Berk, Anna Fultz, and Miriam Kling were chosen from students competing from 13 states.

PAVAS

The primary objective of PAVAS, the Performing and Visual Arts Society, is to experience all the arts in as many ways as possible. Accordingly, members participated in in-school demonstrations, where high school students instructed elementary school students in facets of the arts. Workshops and performances for other clubs were held, allowing talents to be shared with the community. Members also attended concerts and exhibits. Fundraising helped defray some of the cost of the club's activities, and also helped finance a scholarship for seniors pursuing a career in the arts.

Students are sports,

The Bicycle Club, advised by Mr. Ray Beier, took to the highways and bicycle paths several times this year. The members of the club traveled to such places as Griggstown, Holmdel Park, Neshanic Station and the Watchung Mountains. The average distance pedaled this spring was a grueling 40 miles. The nice weather made the longer trips more pleasurable, and there were many interesting sites to see.

The Bowling Club, which met every Monday between December and March, is a coeducational club. It works on the basis of the handicap system. In this way, both the novice and the expert bowlers are able to compete with each other with equal chances of winning. This season, there was a total of ten teams, with three people on each. Competitions were on a rotating basis.

For those who had lots of strikes — and for those who didn't — there was a lot of pizza to spare at the club's end-of-the season party.

The adviser to the club was Mr. Henry Stankiewicz. Members were: Greg Potkowski, Glenn Domanowski, George Martin, Kevin Casey, Keith Casey, Jim Sokolowsky, Don Meyers, Stewart Meyers, Mitchell Sprinsky, David Polsky, Greg Wilsky, Joe Peters, Chuck Gahrman, Tom Zwolinski, Scott Blount, Sam Assad, Dave Nachman, Robert Griffen, George Fan, Dave Friedel, Loran Wilson, Mike Schwartz, Kenneth Brewer, Dan Jetter, Scott Saulou, Pete Haskell, Bill Dunham, Jeff Dunham, and Robert Skiena.

The Chess Club consisted of "Passionate chess enthusiasts," and some students with little experience. Members met twice a week for forty-five minutes with adviser Mr. Edward Weston. "The students attended these meetings regularly," said club president Howard Solomon, "for the purpose of enjoying an intriguing, challenging, and yet relaxing game of chess in a friendly atmosphere."

Beth Judge and Meetah Singal

The Outdoor Club organized and participated in many interesting trips. The club met once a month to plan the trips in which took place every Saturday between the months of October and May. Some activities included canoeing in the Pine Barrens and rafting in Pennsylvania on the Lehigh River and Tohiken Creek. There were also trips which took members rafting in South Carolina and in Tennessee on the Chatanooga and the Ocoee Rivers. In order to reduce the cost of these trips, stationery and candles were sold to raise funds. The club advisers Mr. Dennis Anderson, Ms Krista Tammara and Mr. Mike Spadafino supervised all activities. Some of the most active members were Sue Kelly, Seema Singal, Beth Judge, Peter Gregory, and Howard Goldman.

Ski Club

The Ski Club, which was active between the months of December and April, took many trips involving a great number of students. Day trips were taken to Vernon Valley, Hunter and Bellayre. A five-day trip brought members to Mt. Sainte Anne in Quebec, Canada.

The officers of the ski club were Howard Abramson, Cheryl Okon, Dave Damon, John Paradise, Heidi Hieman, Allan Pepperman, Rich Galuchie, Chris Cole, Yvette Scola, and Tom Thompson.

EMERALD

Ms. Amy Fisher and Karen Levin

Once again the Emerald staff, with the help of advisors Ms. Judith Koppel, Ms. Amy Fisher, and Ms. Jo Marchisotto, managed to put out another yearbook. This year was the third year that the yearbook functioned as a class. In this way, the staff was assured of getting at least 40 minutes of work done each day. However, when deadlines came up, the staff still scheduled many late evening sessions.

Again this year, the job of Editor-in-Chief was eliminated in favor of a core group of editors. They were in charge of the opening section, sports, clubs, senior, junior and sophomore class portraits, and the financial area encompassing the positions of two business managers. Mrs. Marchisotto, a teacher new to the Emerald staff, oversaw all monies moving in and out of the yearbook's account.

The hardest part of being on the staff was that it was very difficult to please everyone. Although there were numerous complaints protesting that the Emerald wasn't emerald green, the yearbook as a whole was definitely a success.

The Final Copy

Folio, the art / literary magazine, contained poetry, short stories, and artwork contributed by high school students. Material was either submitted by students themselves or was recommended by teachers of English and art classes.

The staff was composed of a literary committee, advised by Mr. Steven Redman, and an art committee, advised by Ms. Judith Koppel. Weekly meetings were held so that the contents of the magazine could be decided. Members of the Folio staff are: Editors — Angela Hwang, Elisse Berliner, Eileen Zimet (literary) Kim Blethen (artwork).

The sophomore publication, better known as The Final Copy, is made up of poems, short stories, and essays written by the sophomore class. The staff was responsible for organizing all material, and therefore met every Tuesday after school.

Necessary monies were raised to cover publishing costs by sponsoring flea markets during the months of October and May. The Publication was given to all sophomores, free of charge.

Staff members were: Jason Zavok, Marisa Gatt, Paul Henry, Doug Fleider, Joan Webster, Paul Reider, Mike Kraidman.

"Hey, look at this", or, "I didn't know that" were comments commonly heard when reading the school's monthly newspaper, The Clarion. There were articles for varying tastes, covering everything from news to restaurant and movie reviews. The paper was written entirely by a staff of students. However, adviser Ms. Amy Fisher helped to make important decisions and to see that things ran smoothly.

There were two editors-in-chief, Lisa Stern and Eric Taub. At general meetings, the editors assigned stories to anyone who volunteered to write. When the writers finished, the editors' work began. Photographers had to take pictures to capture the mood of each article. Ads were sold to cut the cost of each publication. All ads, photographs and copy were then arranged on pages and finally printed.

The Clarion staff prided itself in that it worked basically in the same way that major newspapers do. The paper consistently demonstrated its award winning history. Editors were: Lisa Stern, Ronni Kantner, Lori Brill, Karen Levin, Kathy Pollack, Anne Gnassi, Sanjay Shah, Sue Kelley, Eric Taub, Eric Goldberg, Mark Pandos, Carolyn Toto, Louis Soslowsky, Norm Munkholm, Gary Heimberg, Sue Chaityn.

During the colder months, many students participated in the indoor sports program, known as Intramurals. Basketball, floor hockey, indoor soccer, volleyball, raquetball and fencing were among the activities offered. All sports were open on a co-educational basis. Players often found themselves becoming highly competitive, and yet other times the sports were just for fun.

Math Team

The Math Team had a changing membership, but at any one time, there were between five and ten participants. They competed in two separate leagues. The first had meets every month for eight months at different sites in the Central New Jersey area. The second league competition consisted of eight short 30-minute tests given here throughout the year.

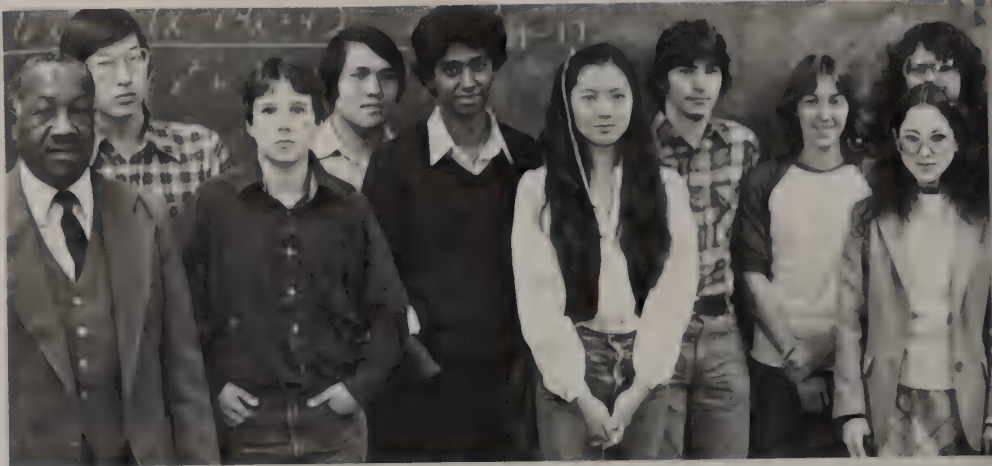

The members were: Seniors, Doug Bennett, Zahid Hussain and Howard Cho, Juniors, Angela Hwang, Howard Solomon and Elisse Berliner.

Adviser Mr. Charles Hammond stated that a goal for next year is to get more sophomores interested in the team.

The Math Club, originally founded to foster a better appreciation of mathematical concepts, reached its goal this year, and had fun doing it. During club meetings, members either worked on problems or heard guests who spoke about different fields that might be considered for future careers.

One of the fundraisers the club sponsored was a candy sale the week before Halloween. The responsibility of planning these activities was mostly in the hands of the adviser Mr. Charles Hammond, President Howard Cho, Vice-President Angela Hwang, and Secretary — Treasurer Darlene Paduto.

SCIENCE LEAGUE

The New Jersey Science League sponsored for the second year competitive tests for students in a subject of their choice. Teams in first and second year chemistry, beginning biology, and physics competed by taking exams during January, February, March and April.

Many students participated because it was fun, and it gave them a chance to get together with friends while competing in something they were good at. Teachers also enjoyed the contests. The biology team was advised by Mr. Shirley Reid, and Mr. Alexander Horvath, the chemistry team by Dr. Paul Kimmel, and the physics team by Mr. Edward Weston and Mr. George Kelly.

Principal Mr. John Mansfield resigned in October to take a new job as assistant superintendent for secondary education in the South Orange — Maplewood District. "I have ambivalent feelings about leaving," Mr. Mansfield said, "but this is a unique career opportunity in a quality school district with a significant pay increase."

Mr. Mansfield was principal here since October 1977. He is the first EBHS graduate to be principal of the school. After graduating from EBHS in 1965, he went to Memphis State University where he received his bachelor's degree. He also has a master's degree from Penn State and is enrolled in the doctoral program at the Rutgers Graduate School of Education.

While he was at Penn State, he taught physical education to undergraduates and returned here as teacher in 1971. He taught health, driver education and physical education at first, but later taught only health classes. He became an assistant principal in 1975.

Staff changes

This year there were two staff changes made because of former Assistant Principal Carlo Guidobini's retirement. One of these changes was the promotion of Ms. JoAnn Magistro from Guidance chairperson to assistant principal. She had been in the guidance department here for nine years.

Her responsibilities include progress reports, report cards, teacher evaluations, student activities, and junior class attendance. She said that she hopes to be an administrator here for many years and wishes the class of 1981 all the best!!!

Mr. Frank Lo Presti's appointment to Guidance Department Chairperson was the second staff change.

Mr. Lo Presti has been a counselor here since August 1975. He previously was an elementary school counselor in Dade County, Florida. He said he made the change from elementary school to high school because he enjoys working with older students.

In addition to working at the high school, he has been a counselor for the East Brunswick Adult and Continuing Education program for handicapped adults and the Graduate Equivalency Diploma program.

"I really care about the people I work with — Students, parents and teachers," he said. "I try to put myself in their position when I talk with them. It's been great for me in East Brunswick. There are a lot of great people here. The students are really very special and I'm proud of them."

He sees the major role of the counselor as "allowing students to develop to their greatest potentiality." His immediate goals as department chairperson will be to help improve the effectiveness of the counselors and to improve the image of the department.

Independent Living

Independent Living, a new course which can be taken as an elective by juniors and seniors, combines Home Economics, Industrial Arts and the expertise of local specialists into one course. Mr. Gil Mangieri, chairman of the two departments, feels that this course deals with the "practical aspects" of life.

The course is taught by Ms. Joyce Hunter, Ms. JoAnn Schweizer and Mr. Tony Chinni. It is divided into two sections: Laboratory skills and information areas. In laboratory skills, meal management, auto maintenance and other useful topics are taught. In the information area, students learn about home furnishing, money management, career planning and other information.

Ms. Hunter, who helped write the curriculum for the course, said, "Young people need to develop practical skills which will help them throughout their lives. Further more, this is a course that will best help the students' growing needs."

Junior English, a mandatory course, continues to develop the writing skills, reading skills and correct English usage introduced in the sophomore English program. Robert Lawson, chairman of the English department said, "This is a sequential year-long program which meets the requirements of the Board of Education on reading and writing."

Students explore a wide range of themes in American literature, reading novels such as Catcher in the Rye, Farewell to Arms, Red Badge of Courage and many more. The course emphasizes daily writing using expository, journal and creative writing techniques. An advantage of this course is that students do not have to take Composition I and II, which were mandatory in past years. Instead, the two composition courses and American Literature are combined.

Who says, "You can't go home again!"

Through the years, we have seen an increasing number of teachers who are former EBHS students. Former Principal John Mansfield, a graduate of the class of '65, was once a physical education teacher, assistant principal and finally principal. The 1981 Emerald wishes to honor and recognize these teachers by mentioning who they are, some of their viewpoints on the educational system, and their comments on students of the past and present.

Ms. Laura Chelli-Thibodeau, dance teacher, graduated with the class of '72. After graduating from Douglass College, she returned here to teach. Like many of us, she had Mr. Lou Chalupa for Humanities and was taught to drive by Mr. "O". As a student, Ms. Chelli-Thibodeau was a cheerleader, gymnast, and a performer who danced in the Senior Variety Show.

Commenting on her classmates, she said "They were up and ready to fight due to the Vietnam War," whereas today, "Students are more disciplined and willing to learn." She further adds that the educational system has broadened in terms of the curriculum, but in terms of pupil regulations, the "School was more liberal in the past." She has been teaching here for the past five years and adds that "I thoroughly enjoy teaching and hope to teach for years to come."

"The discipline is less today," Mr. Harry Morris said when asked about the existing regulations. A graduate of '67, former Marine and a graduate of Trenton State College, Mr. Morris is now a gym teacher at EBHS. He added "Academically, it is better — a wider course selection — but there is not enough student involvement in the extra-curricular activities,"

As a student, Mr. Morris was involved in basketball, football, Varsity Club and other clubs and sports. In his second year of teaching here, Mr. Morris notes that "Drugs are a problem now. When I was in school, alcohol was a problem." At present, Mr. Morris teaches at both the high school, where he coaches track, and Chit-tick Elementary School. He also coaches football at Hamarskjold Junior High School. Asked if he enjoys teaching here, he said, "I enjoy this system. I always wanted to come back to my alma mater and teach."

Mr. Alexander Horvath, a biology teacher, graduated from EBHS in '68 and later graduated from Bloomsburg State College. Some teachers of his who are still teaching here, are Mr. John Bruthers, Mr. John Bodnar, Mr. John Emery and Mr. Steve Michaud. "Mr. Michaud was the one who inspired me to become a teacher. He is a vibrant, knowledgeable person," Mr. Horvath said.

He noted that changes which have occurred since his graduation do not shock him and that they "Come with the times. School was a center of activities then, but today, students have more facilities."

Like the other teachers, Mr. Horvath feels that there is a freedom in the educational system today which benefits students as well as teachers. He has been teaching here for the past six years, following two years as a biology teacher at Churchill Junior High School. As a student, he was involved in the Key Club, Student Government and National Honor Society. He also participated in baseball, basketball and football.

"East Brunswick High School changed with the times, ran with the normal trends that swept the times", said Mr. Michael Spadafino, who was a member of the class of '67. He later attended the University of North Colorado on a football scholarship and graduated with a major in biology.

"There is more student apathy now," he notes, "Students are now taking care of themselves and are not concerned with the overall picture of the school. Today, I find many little groups-cliques."

At present, Mr. Spadafino coaches both football and track and was formerly an adviser to the Key Club. He has been teaching here for the past seven years. "From my own experience," he said, "teaching enhances my own development, since I am realizing that teachers are people too. This is mainly because I am now working with teachers who once taught me."

Other teachers who are EBHS alumni are Ms. Joyce Hunter '69, Ms. Lynn Fedak '74, Mr. Powell Saks '63, Mr. Tom Kapusta '65, Mr. Michael Zielinski '73, Mr. Kenneth Henderek '66 and Mr. William Parkinson '65.

Laura Bongiovanni

Susan Witt, Mrs. Florek

Mr. Zielinsky

The Junior Class Council, led by president Laura Bongiovanni, meets once a month to discuss fund raising activities with the help of advisors Mrs. Karen Florek and Mr. Michael Zielinsky. The council plans the events which will be the most profitable to the class. Some of the most successful fund raisers include a homecoming megaphone sale, a candy sale and numerous bake sales. Activities included two spring car washes and a pancake breakfast held in the spring. Other class officers were Susan Tamburro, vice president, Amy Dannin, treasurer, and Carolyn Powers, secretary.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming 1980 was an event that the junior class anticipated enthusiastically. With Brenda Feeley as the junior attendant to the queen, the class members hoped to capture first place in the float competition and repeat their sophomore victory. Although they showed originality in their rendition of the theme, "Heroes," their efforts placed them only in second place, tied with the sophomores.

Student Council

Mrs. Judith Rosenthal

The Sophomore Class Council meets and plans fund-raising events for the class in order to defray the cost of the senior prom. It holds meetings once a month and discusses future activities with Mrs. Judith Rosenthal and Mrs. Carlotta Miller, the class advisors. Some successful fund-raisers included a class carnival and a popcorn sale, which grossed more than $500.00 Bake sales and candy sales also contributed ample funds to the treasury.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming is a long time tradition of alumni and friends of East Brunswick High School. For most sophomores, 1980 was the first year that they had participated in these festivities. The theme was "Heroes." The class float entry was Sesame Street. After the judging had been declared final, the class of '83 had managed to tie for second place with the juniors. Sophomore attendant Sandra Cole greeted the cheering crowds.

On the first day of school, tenth graders learned that they were relatively unwelcome. Although these poor people were tormented by their friends, the phrase, "You're such a sophomore" became the ultimate put-down.

In a lot of ways, however, the stereotype of sophomores was true. They simply didn't know the things that most EBHS students knew.

On the other hand, to be a sophomore is to be the school's scapegoat. Juniors and seniors never failed to use this opportunity. Well, sophomores could take heart. By the end of the year, they'd be rid of that terrible handicap forever . . . it would be quickly forgotten as it came to be their turn to get even.

SOPHOMORES

It was eight o'clock and your alarm clock began to ring. You jumped out of bed, ran around frantically, because you thought you would miss the bus. You started to scream, with the thought that the stupid alarm clock was broken — until you remembered that school started later this year. That was the case in many bedrooms in the fall, as students began to adjust to the new school hours. The change in the times from 8:15 a.m.-3:05 p.m., to 9:05 a.m.-3:15 p.m. delighted some of us with an extra hour of sleep we so desperately needed after those all too short party weekends. There were students that had hoped school would begin, and end, earlier, so that they could get to their jobs sooner, and make an extra couple of dollars to spend on those party weekends. Some of us won; some of us lost.

SENIORS HERE'S A GOOD DEAL!

If your parents can't help you with money for college, your "Uncle" can. Enlist in the U.S. Army and enroll in the Veterans Educational Assistance Program. It can net you up to $8100 toward your future education after you are discharged.

(And the Army pays up to 75% of your tuition costs for courses you want to take while you are still a soldier -- after work hours, of course).

If you can find a better offer, take it. But if you are serious about wanting that college degree or vocational training and you don't have the money, talk to your Army recruiter.

AIR
A great way of life

WHAT HAPPENED?

There you were at graduation. Confident about your future. Ready to conquer the world. But then you went to work. Just temporarily, of course. You bought a car and some clothes. And you found yourself working in an area you never really wanted at all. And everywhere you look, personnel departments want only people with experience.

But wait! Before you waste time working at something you don't like, find out how the Air Force can change your life. Let us find out where your strengths lie. Together we'll decide on a skill you like and the Air Force needs. Then you'll go on to technical school or on-the-job training... learning a skill that will help you compete in a fast moving world. You'll get the experience you need and the advantages of the Air Force great way of life.

But what about those financial commitments? You'll start earning good Air Force pay right away, with opportunity for advancement and regular pay raises.

So stop asking "What happened?"

MAKE your future happen in the Air Force. For your country. For yourself. Your local recruiter has details. Get in touch!
